Complete URL Map

Generated 2026-05-22 17:07:42 UTC — re-run scripts/generate-url-map-pdf.mjs anytime URLs change.

Sections in this document

1. Live canonical routes (17 static + 1 dynamic + 3 intentionally excluded)
2. Code-level redirects from next.config.ts (2)
3. Planned legacy WordPress migration redirects — to seed into Sanity at launch (43 active + 10 to-skip)
4. Sanity-driven editorial redirects (reference only)

Pre-launch indexing block (reminder)

All routes are currently blocked from search engines via three layers (src/app/robots.ts, X-Robots-Tag header in next.config.ts, robots metadata in layout.tsx). All three must be removed in a single commit on launch day before any of the URLs in this document will appear in search results.

1. Live canonical routes

Pages currently served by the Next.js app. Listed in `src/app/sitemap.ts`; this PDF must be regenerated whenever `sitemap.ts` changes.

Dynamic routes
`/blog/[slug]`
Blog post pages — dynamic from Sanity, one per published post

Excluded from sitemap (intentional)
`/assessment/results`
Session-gated deep link; redirects fresh visitors back to /assessment

`/contact/thank-you`
Post-conversion confirmation page; should never be indexed

`/studio/[...tool]`
Sanity Studio admin; noindexed

2. Code-level redirects (next.config.ts)

Permanent (308) or temporary (307) redirects baked into the Next.js config. Requires a redeploy to change. Best used for permanent URL changes tied to the codebase.

Source	Destination	Status	Note
<code>/?zoho_payment=success</code>	<code>/assessment?zoho_payment=success</code>	307	Zoho payment-success landing forwarded to the assessment SPA handler.
<code>/virtual-clinic</code>	<code>/virtual-consult</code>	308	Rebrand. Old URL preserves SEO authority for existing inbound links.

3. Planned legacy WordPress migration redirects

Extracted from drpalsnewme.com/sitemap_index.xml (the old WordPress site). These are NOT live yet — they will be seeded into the Sanity "redirect" doctype at launch so the middleware picks them up. Each is a 308 permanent redirect.

4. Sanity-driven editorial redirects (reference only)

Managed in Sanity Studio under the "Redirect" document type. Picked up by `src/middleware.ts` and refreshed every 60 seconds — no redeploy needed. Best used for content-driven changes (renamed blog slugs, moved articles).

How to add one (for editors):

1. Open `/studio`
2. Click "Redirect" in the sidebar
3. Click "Create new" — fill in source, destination, permanent toggle, optional note
4. Publish — middleware picks it up within ~60 seconds

This PDF doesn't enumerate Sanity-driven redirects because they're managed in Studio. Check sanity.io/manage !' project `sljf1wfa` !' Studio for the live list.
